FILACP JOURNAL

IBERIANLATINAMERICAN FEDERATION OF PLASTIC SURGERY

NRO. 61 / FILACP / FEBRUARY 2015

WORDS FROM THE PRESIDENT.

DR. JULIO DANIEL KIRSCHBAUM
President of FILACP
2014 - 2016

Dear colleagues and friends, I begin my term as President of the FILACP with much confidence and expectation. In the event of the possible dissolution of the IPRAS, we could constitute the largest and most active Federation on a worldwide level. We count with the necessary talent and creativity, but we shall research and publish even more, for such purpose we have established awards with economic incentives to the best 10 works published in our official authority of scientific outreach, the Iberian Latin American Journal of Plastic Surgery. Such awards will be chosen per Chapters in the corresponding area.

Dr. María del Mar Vaquero Pérez, Director of the FILACP Journal will travel to provide publication courses to the National Societies that request these.

We will continue with the scholarships for internships and research projects provided to Residents of the Specialty, under the responsibility of the Educational Foundation.

The Esthetics Chapter run by Dr. Antonio Fuente del Campo will organize the Pre Regional Conference Courses in Guatemala, Rosario and Santa Cruz de la Sierra in 2015 y our Biennial Conference on March 8 in Punta del Este, Uruguay.

During our term, 3 books will be edited: of Microsurgery, by Dr. Eric Santa María, of Fissures in Lip and Palate by Dr. Alejandro Duarte and of Burns, by Dr. Ramón Zapata and myself.

We will work as a team with the Chapters, Committees, Board of Directors and as we have been doing with the Executive Committee.

We expect to be transparent and receptive; also, we will accept all constructive criticism.

The FILACP belongs to all of its Members.

Yours faithfully.

COMMITTEES.

COURSE OF SCIENTIFIC PUBLICATION ON PLASTIC, ESTHETIC AND REPAIR SURGERY OF THE IBERIAN LATIN AMERICAN PLASTIC SURGERY JOURNAL, IN COORDINATION WITH FILACP AND ADDRESSED TO THE NATIONAL SOCIETIES.

Organization: The courses are coordinated from the Administration of the FILACP, its Educational Foundation and the Directorate of the Iberian Latin American Plastic Surgery Journal, counting with the participation of the National Society or Societies of the country or countries in the field of the FILACP that would like require them.

Courses addressed to: Residents in accredited information and specialist already graduated in Plastic, Esthetic and Repair Surgery.

Scope of the courses: The courses will be carried out on each National Society of the FILACP that requests them, or between two or more National Societies of countries of the field that coordinate between them and request the course to be carried out together in a central venue.

Number of attendants: According to the field on which the courses are developed, the maximum number of attendants will be determined in order to obtain the most possible benefit; it is recommended the course to be interactive and that it allows the fluid participation between the audience and the professors.

Professor: Dr. María del Mar Vaquero, in representation of the Directorate of the Iberian Latin American Plastic Surgery Journal.

The following plan:

- A thematic part: Addressed to the scientific publication, its importance and need, types of publications, development and parts of a scientific article, specialized bibliographic search, election of journal, preparation and final delivery of manuscripts and comprehension of the editorial process.

- A specific part of the specialty: Which allows becoming familiar with the field, impact and utility of the scientific publication in Spanish.

The course will count, on each country or group of country on which it is given, with:

- A local coordinator as a contact for the organization of the event with Dr. Vaquero and with the FILACP, with roles of local host and director of the course.

- A member of the Administration of the FILACP or of its Educational Foundation that endorses and presents the course, or its representative in a national level.

- The President of the organizing National Society or its representative.

- The Director or Editor of the national journal of the host country or countries (in case there is any), that presents its experience, activity and objectives as a local journal.

- Two or more professionals from the country or countries on which the course is developed (if possible both from the public field as from the private field of the specialty) with experience in publications, that provide the attendants with their expertise and show the curricular value achieved with their articles.

Duration and infrastructure: the courses will be developed on a full time, morning and afternoon, preferably Fridays or Saturday. The selected environment shall count with audiovisual projection media (computer for power point and projection screen) and audio system.

Attendants' fee: It will be decided by the organizer National Society in coordination with FILACP based on the organizational and financial capacity of each National Society.

Accreditation: The FILACP, through their Educational Foundation, will provide the attendants with an accreditation diploma at the end of the course and on each country the National Society will also endorse the course on the way it is used to, with the provision of a diploma or certificate with curricular validity.

Financing of The Course: The requesting society will cover the expenses for the transportation and accommodation of Dr. Vaquero to provide the course, as well as for the organization and locations of the event (rooms and others). In case of not counting with sponsorship of resources to finance the airline ticket, it shall be formally requested that the FILACP, by means of its President, consider providing the necessary support.

Requirements for the fulfilment of the course: It shall be addressed in a formal letter (in copy) to the FILACP and to the Iberian Latin American Plastic Surgery Journal to the following addresses:

- FILACP: To Dr. Julio Daniel Kirschbaum, President of the FILACP, filacp@gmail.com
- Journal: To Dr. María del Mar Vaquero, Director, ciplaslatin@gmail.com

The new president Dr. Otoniel Díaz addressed to the attendants, exposing the work plan that he pretends to carry out along with his team for the term 2014-2016.

25th ANNIVERSARY OF THE COLOMBIAN JOURNAL OF PLASTIC AND RECONSTRUCTIVE SURGERY

En Bogotá, el 14 de noviemin Bogota, on the past November 14, the Colombian Society of Esthetic and Reconstructive Surgery SCCP, presided by Dr. Lina Triana, commemorated the 25 years of its official publication "Colombian Journal of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery". The seminar: "Writing of scientific articles" was the most important part of the event, with the participation of Dr. María del Mar Vaquero, as main speaker and the coordination of Dr. Juan Carlos Zambrano. Founded on November 25, 1989: Jorge Arturo Díaz Reyes, current director, then president of the SCCP and Jorge Cantini Ardila, promoter of the initiative and first editor, it has been the only scientific journal of the specialty in Colombia.

With a biannual publication, it has three formats: Printed, digital and indexed. Its purpose is the diffusion of the research, the reflection, the creation and discussion in plastic surgery, of mainly national origin, within and outside the country, but without prejudice to foreign authorships. To collect them, select them, improve them and transfer them to the ge- neral debate, offering know- ledge, continuous education, update, exchange, historical testimony and utility for the assistance practice. Its identification signs are: ISSN 0120- 2729, bibliographic abbreviation: Rev Colomb Cir Plast Reconstr and the URL of its digital edition www.ciplastica.com. With a biannual publication, and indexed by Publindex-Colciencias, remains open the whole year for the reception of original manuscripts (direccionrevista@cirugiapalstica.org.co) which shall be sent via e-mail according to the information to the authors permanently published, both in the printed version as in the Web.

The Colombian journal of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery shares the celebration of its first quarter of a century with all of its readers, authors and collaborators.www.ciplastica.com
